

2024 Mid-America Student Symposium

FE Quiz Bowl

Event Description:

The FE Trivia competition will take place on April 18th, at 7:00. Please check Mailer 3 and final information sent by email if the time changes. Location of this competition will be announced in the Mailers and final information. The competition will consist of three rounds of engineering related questions. The winner will be the school that has the highest score at the end of the competition.

General Rules:

- Each team will consist of three students. Each university may register as many teams as they wish to ensure all students are able to participate. Separate registration must be submitted for each team competing.

Note: Only the top scoring team from each university will be considered for scoring in the overall symposium competition.

- There will be three rounds with ten questions in each round.
- Each team will have up to two minutes for each question.
- Every question will be FE or engineering related.
- Teams will need to bring in calculators and FE manuals(optional).
- Pencils and paper will be supplied.
- Each team will have the option to double their score for one round. This option can only be used once for the game.
- All questions will be asked over PowerPoint.
